NEW QUESTION: 1DRAG DROPAnswer: Explanation:

NEW QUESTION: 2You are helping your client identify and define their controls. You have determined that your client requires two perspectives: Business Units and Regulatory Standards. The controls are going to be secured by the business unit, and you want to ensure that when the client defines new controls, it is mandatory to assign a Business Units perspective to the control. You are going to set the "Required" field to "yes" for the Control-Business Units association. Where do you do this in the product?A. The Create Control screenB. The Create Perspectives screenC. The Manage Object Perspectives screenD. The Import templateE. The Manage Module Perspectives screenAnswer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3Pricing is a method of determining prices using the condition technique. SAP SRM uses Pricing when purchase documents are created. The system automatically determines the gross price and any surcharges and discounts that apply to a specific supplier according to defined conditions. Which of the following are essential elements of the condition technique?A. Condition VariantB. Condition TypeC. Procedure groupD. Calculation SchemaE. Access SequenceAnswer: B, D, E*Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Pricing consists of the following elements:Condition TypeA condition type serves to differentiate between prices in the system. You can define a separate condition type for each type of price, surcharge or discount that may arise in your business transactions. The condition type defines, for example, a discount as a fixed amount or as a percentage. For example, you can apply release-based rebates that depend on former spend or volume, based on historical spend and not on a single purchase order. Therefore, you can assign a condition where the discounts are based on aggregated release value of the referenced contract or contract hierarchy (if the contract is part of a hierarchy) has been introduced. You can also define group conditions with which scales are used in several items of a purchase order. Calculation SchemaThe calculation schema describes a sequence of condition types that are used to determine prices. In SAP SRM, the calculation schema 0100 is defined as default. You can modify this and add your own condition types. Access SequenceAn access sequence is a search strategy with which the system looks for valid data for a specific condition type. You can define an access sequence for each condition type. In SAP SRM, the access sequences are predefined. Condition TableA condition table contains price information on a master data type, for example, on a product master. If you define a product price or a special discount, for example, you create condition records in the relevant condition table.

NEW QUESTION: 4You have a Microsoft Excel workbook that contains two tables. From Power BI, you create a dashboard that displays data from the tables. You update the tables each day. You need to ensure that the virtualizations in the dashboard are updated daily. Which three actions should you perform in sequence? To answer, move the appropriate actions from the list
