NEW QUESTION: 2You've mistakenly created your business partner with the wrong business partner category. You've saved the data but haven't made any postings. What can you do to correct this?A. Change the setting directly in the business partner master record.B. Contact the system administrator to change the table entry in the backend.C. Delete the company code assignment for the business partner, correct the category, and reassign the company code.D. Create a new business partner using the correct category.Answer: D*Explanation:The only way to correct this is to create a new business partner and mark the erroneous one for deletion. Changing this isn't a matter of authorization, nor does it make any difference if you've posted on the business partner or assigned it to a company code. However, if you've posted, the best option is to reverse the documents and repost on the correct business partner.
