NEW QUESTION: 1 DRAG DROP You are a senior project manager in a software development company. You manage your projects with Project Professional 2013. The development team is behind schedule due to a problem found in the architectural design of the database. The lead architect estimates that redesigning the database will take approximately 30 hours. You create a new manual task and assign it to the lead architect. However, the task has not been scheduled. You need to easily see a time phased view of all tasks for the lead architect in order to schedule the task for completion. Which three actions should you perform in sequence? (To answer, move the appropriate three actions from the list of actions to the answer area and arrange them in the correct order.) Answer: Explanation:

NEW QUESTION: 2 Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in this series contains a unique solution. Determine whether the solution meets the stated goals. You are developing a new application that uses a stored procedure. The stored procedure inserts thousands of records as a single batch into the Employees table. Users report that the application response time has worsened since the stored procedure was updated. You examine disk-related performance counters for the Microsoft SQL Server instance and observe several high values that include a disk performance issue. You examine wait statistics and observe an unusually high WRITELOG value. You need to improve the application response time. Solution: You add a unique clustered index to the Employees table.
