As a result the production line in operation has a market value of £ 50,000. The line is being depreciated straight line over five years.The charge to the income statement for impairment of the production line will beAnswer: Explanation:£30000

NEW QUESTION: 2The risk manager is reviewing a report which identifies a requirement to keep a business critical legacy system operational for the next two years. The legacy system is out of support because the vendor and security patches are no longer released. Additionally, this is a proprietary embedded system and little is documented and known about it. Which of the following should the Information Technology department implement to reduce the security risk from a compromise of this system?A. Virtualize the system and migrate it to a cloud provider.B. Install an antivirus and HIDS on the system.C. Segment the device on its own secure network.D. Hire developers to reduce vulnerabilities in the code.Answer: CExplanation:The question states that the application is a proprietary embedded system and little is documented and known about it. If we don't know much about the application or system, we should not make any changes to the system.The best solution would be to isolate the system by segmenting the device on its own secure network.This will reduce the risk of a compromise of the system without making changes to the system itself.Incorrect Answers:A: The question states that the application is a proprietary embedded system and little is documented and known about it. Therefore, we do not know if the system can be virtualized or if the process of virtualizing the system will damage the system. This is not a risk that should be taken. Furthermore, hosting the system in a cloud does not reduce the risk of compromise of the system.Therefore this answer is incorrect.C: The question states that the application is a proprietary embedded system and little is documented and known about it. Therefore, we do not know if we can install an antivirus and HIDS on the system or how that would affect the running of the application. Being a proprietary embedded system, it's unlikely that we can install an antivirus and HIDS on the system. Therefore this answer is incorrect.D: The question states that the application is a proprietary embedded system and little is documented and known about it. Being a proprietary embedded system, it's unlikely that developers would be able to reduce vulnerabilities in the code. Modifying the code would also be a huge risk to the application. Therefore this answer is incorrect.
