NEW QUESTION: 4A programmer maliciously modified a production program to change data and then restored the original code. Which of the following would MOST effectively detect the malicious activity?A. Comparing source codeB. Comparing object codeC. Reviewing executable and source code integrityD. Reviewing system log filesAnswer: DExplanation:Reviewing system log files is the only trail that may provide information about the unauthorized activities in the production library. Source and object code comparisons are ineffective, because the original programs were restored and do not exist. Reviewing executable and source code integrity is an ineffective control, because integrity between the executable and source code is automatically maintained.
