NEW QUESTION: 1 Given records from the Player table: and given the code fragment:

try {
    Connection conn = DriverManager.getConnection(URL, username, password);
    Statement st = conn.createStatement(ResultSet.TYPE_SCROLL_SENSITIVE, ResultSet.CONCUR_UPDATABLE);
    st.execute("SELECT * FROM Player");
    st.setMaxRows(2);
    ResultSet rs = st.getResultSet();
    rs.absolute(3);
    while (rs.next ()) {
        System.out.println(rs.getInt(1) + " " + rs.getString(2));
    }
} catch (SQLException ex) {
    System.out.print("SQLException is thrown.");

 Assume that: The required database driver is configured in the classpath. The appropriate database is accessible with URL, username, and password. The SQL query is valid. What is the result?
A. SQLException is thrown.
B. 2 Jack
C. 3 Sam
D. 3 Sam
Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2 Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet the stated goals. Some question sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution. After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen. Your company is developing a new business intelligence application that will access data in a Microsoft Azure SQL Database instance. All objects in the instance have the same owner. A new security principal named BI_User requires permission to run stored procedures in the database. The stored procedures read from and write to tables in the database. None of the stored procedures perform IDENTIFY_INSERT operations or dynamic SQL commands. The scope of permissions and authentication of BI_User should be limited to the database. When granting permissions, you should use the principle of least privilege. You need to create the required security principals and grant the appropriate permissions. Solution: You run the following Transact-SQL statement: Does the solution meet the goal?
A. Yes
B. No
Answer: B Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: A login would also be needed. Note: One method of creating multiple lines of defense around your database is to implement all data access using stored procedures or user-defined functions. You revoke or deny all permissions to underlying objects, such as tables, and grant EXECUTE permissions on stored procedures. This effectively creates a security perimeter around your data and database objects. Best Practices Simply writing stored procedures isn't enough to adequately secure your application. You should also consider the following potential security holes. Grant EXECUTE permissions on the stored procedures for database roles you want to be able to access the data. Revoke or deny all permissions to the underlying tables for all roles and users in the database, including the public role. All users inherit permissions from public. Therefore denying permissions to public means that only owners and sysadmin members have access; all other users will be unable to inherit permissions from membership in other roles. Do not add users or roles to the sysadmin or db_owner roles. System administrators and database owners can access all database objects.

NEW QUESTION: 3 A security administrator is tackling issues related to authenticating users at a remote site. There have been a large number of security incidents that resulted from either tailgating or impersonation of authorized users with valid credentials. The security administrator has been told to implement multifactor authentication in order to control facility access. To secure access to the remote facility, which of the following could be implemented without increasing the amount of space required at the entrance?
A. MOTD challenge and PIN pad
B. Voice recognition and one-time PIN token
C. One-time PIN token and proximity reader
D. Retina scanner and fingerprint reader
Answer: B
Explanation: Authentication systems or methods are based on one or more of these five factors:
Something you know, such as a password or PIN
Something you have, such as a smart card, token, or identification device
Something you are, such as your fingerprints or retinal pattern (often called biometrics)
Something you do, such as an action you must take to complete authentication
Somewhere you are (this is based on geolocation)
Multifactor authentication is authentication that uses two or more of the authentication factors listed above. In this question, we can use voice recognition (something you are) and a one-time PIN token (something you have) to provide two factors of authentication. The one-time PIN token is a small device that generates a one-time PIN to enable access.

NEW QUESTION: 4 Jerky and sudden random movements are often associated with a _____ lesion.
