NEW QUESTION: 1Which two options can be completed when using the Firewall Configuration Tool, system - config - firewall?A. Build a filter to obfuscate sensitive data (national ID numbers, Credit Cards, and so on)B. Select the services that have access to the network resourceC.

Enabling or disabling the firewall entirelyD. Write complex firewall rules for checking, logging, and rejecting inbound and outbound connectionsAnswer: A,CExplanation:

Explanation/Reference:Explanation:system-config-firewallThe GUI screen to control the firewall is available from the menu (System > Administration > Firewall) or can be started from the command line using the system-config-firewall command.Once started, the toolbar provides buttons to allow the firewall to be enabled/disabled (B). You can also configure basic trusted services, such as SSH, FTP and HTTP (C), by putting a tick in the appropriate checkbox and clicking the "Apply" button on the toolbar.The "Other Ports" section allows you to open ports that are not covered in the "Trusted Services" section.

NEW QUESTION: 2A. Option A*B. Option C*C. Option B*D. Option D*Answer: AExplanation: ExplanationRename administrator account policy setting determines whether a different account name is associated with the security identifier (SID) for the Administrator account. Because the Administrator account exists on all Windows server versions, renaming the account makes it slightly more difficult for attackers to guess this user name and password combination. By default, the built-in Administrator account cannot be locked out no matter how many times a malicious user might use a bad password. This makes the Administrator account a popular target for brute-force password-guessing attacks.The value of this countermeasure is lessened because this account has a well-known SID and there are non-Microsoft tools that allow you to initiate a brute-force attack over the network by specifying the SID rather than the account name. This means that even if you have renamed the Administrator account, a malicious user could start a brute-force attack by using the SID. Rename the Administrator account by specifying a value for the Accounts: Rename administrator account policy setting.Location: GPO_nameComputer ConfigurationWindows SettingsSecurity SettingsLocal PoliciesSecurity Options
