NEW QUESTION: 1 Which two statements about the OSPF Router ID are true? (Choose two.)
A. It identifies the source of a Type 1 LSA.
B. It is created using the MAC Address of the loopback interface.
C. By default, the lowest IP address on the router becomes the OSPF Router ID.
D. It should be the same on all routers in an OSPF routing instance.
E. The router automatically chooses the IP address of a loopback as the OSPF Router ID.
Answer: A, E
Explanation: From the output of the "show ip ospf database":
r120#show ip ospf data OSPF Router with ID (10.0.0.120)
(Process ID 1)
Next, who are the other routers in our area?
Router Link States (Area 1)
Link ID ADV Router Age Seq# Checksum Link count
10.0.0.111 10.0.0.111 600 0x8000023A 0x0092B3 1
10.0.0.112 10.0.0.112 1246 0x80000234 0x009CAC 110.0.0.113 10.0.0.113 148 0x8000022C 0x004399 3
10.0.0.120 10.0.0.120 152 0x80000240 0x0046CB 1
This tells us there are four routers in Area 1. The router with RID 10.0.0.113 has 3 links in Area 1, every one else has only 1 link. Also the router will chose the highest loopback interface as its OSPF router ID (if available).

Scalingグループ容量を更新します Answer: C Explanation: Reference:

<https://docs.aws.amazon.com/autoscaling/ec2/userguide/as-scaling-target-tracking.html>

"With target tracking scaling policies, you select a scaling metric and set a target value. Amazon EC2 Auto Scaling creates and manages the CloudWatch alarms that trigger the scaling policy and calculates the scaling adjustment based on the metric and the target value. The scaling policy adds or removes capacity as required to keep the metric at, or close to, the specified target value. In addition to keeping the metric close to the target value, a target tracking scaling policy also adjusts to changes in the metric due to a changing load pattern. For example, you can use target tracking scaling to: Configure a target tracking scaling policy to keep the average aggregate CPU utilization of your Auto Scaling group at 40 percent. Configure a target tracking scaling policy to keep the request count per target of your Application Load Balancer target group at 1000 for your Auto Scaling group."
