Which of the following actions can he take to protect his computer from unauthorized access, adware, and malware?Each correct answer represents a complete solution. Choose two.A. Configure auditing on the computer.B. Configure a firewall on the computer.C. Install all the service packs available for the operating system.D. Set hidden attributes on his important files.Answer: B,C Explanation:In order to protect his computer from unauthorized access, adware, and malware, Mark can take the following actions: Install all the service packs available for the operating system. Configure a firewall on the computer. What is Service Pack? A service pack is a collection of Fixes and Patches in a single product. A service pack can be used to handle a large number of viruses and bugs or to update an operating system with advanced and better capabilities. A service pack usually contains a number of file replacements. What is a firewall? A firewall is a tool to provide security to a network. It is used to protect an internal network or intranet against unauthorized access from the Internet or other outside networks. It restricts inbound and outbound access and can analyze all traffic between an internal network and the Internet. Users can configure a firewall to pass or block packets from specific IP addresses and ports.Answer option C is incorrect. Setting hidden attributes on files cannot protect computers from unauthorized access, adware, and malware. Answer option B is incorrect. Configuring auditing will not protect computers from unauthorized access, adware, and malware. Auditing is used to track user accounts for file and object access, logon attempts, system shutdown, etc. This enhances the security of the network. Reference: TechNet, Contents: " Chapter 2 - Malware Threats"
