NEW QUESTION: 2You have a proprietary data store on-premises that must be backed up daily by dumping the data store contents to a single compressed 50GB file and sending the file to AWS. Your SLAs state that any dump file backed up within the past 7 days can be retrieved within 2 hours. Your compliance department has stated that all data must be held indefinitely. The time required to restore the data store from a backup is approximately 1 hour. Your on-premise network connection is capable of sustaining 1gbps to AWS. Which backup methods to AWS would be most cost-effective while still meeting all of your requirements?A. Transfer the daily backup files to an EBS volume in AWS and take daily snapshots of the volumeB. Host the backup files on a Storage Gateway with Gateway-Cached Volumes and take daily snapshotsC. Send the daily backup files to Glacier immediately after being generatedD. Transfer the daily backup files to S3 and use appropriate bucket lifecycle policies to send to GlacierAnswer: D
Explanation:ExplanationBecause in the stored volume mode, you are storing data locally, the binary-compressed format is already available, and the bandwidth of your AWS connection meets the 7days/2hour SLA.

NEW QUESTION: 3You need to configure a cloud service to store the secrets required by the mobile applications to call the share. What should you include in the solution? To answer, select the appropriate options in the answer area, NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point.

Answer: Explanation:ExplanationEvery request made against a storage service must be authorized, unless the request is for a blob or container resource that has been made available for public or signed access. One option for authorizing a request is by using Shared Key.
Scenario: The mobile applications must be able to call the share pricing service of the existing retirement fund management system. Until the system is upgraded, the service will only support basic authentication over HTTPS.The investment planning applications suite will include one multi-tier web application and two iOS mobile application. One mobile application will be used by employees; the other will be used by customers.References:
