NEW QUESTION: 1 Which two statements about FCIP Tape Acceleration are true? (Choose two.)

A. FCIP Tape Acceleration only supports the read acceleration. B. FCIP Tape Acceleration reduces each I/O processing time by two RTT. C. The Cisco MDS switch proxies a transfer ready to signal the host to start receiving data. D. FCIP Tape Acceleration enables time stamp control on an FCIP interface. E. FCIP Tape Acceleration uses TCP window management and a sliding window for flow control. Answer: B, C Explanation: Tapes are storage devices that store and retrieve user data sequentially. Cisco MDS NX-OS provides both tape write and read acceleration. Applications that access tape drives normally have only one SCSI WRITE or READ operation outstanding to it. This single command process limits the benefit of the tape acceleration feature when using an FCIP tunnel over a long-distance WAN link. It impacts backup, restore, and restore performance because each SCSI WRITE or READ operation does not complete until the host receives a good status response from the tape drive. The FCIP tape acceleration feature helps solve this problem. It improves tape backup, archive, and restore operations by allowing faster data streaming between the host and tape drive over the WAN link. Reference:

NEW QUESTION: 2 Which mode of uRPF causes a router interface to accept a packet, if the network to which the packet's source IP address belongs is found in the router's FIB? A. Desirable mode B. Strict mode C. Loose mode D. Auto mode Answer: C Explanation: A number of common types of DoS attacks take advantage of forged or rapidly changing source IP addresses, allowing attackers to thwart efforts by ISPs to locate or filter these attacks. Unicast RPF was originally created to help mitigate such attacks by providing an automated, scalable mechanism to implement the Internet Engineering Task Force (IETF) Best Common Practices 38/Request for Comments 2827 (BCP 38/RFC 2827) anti-spoofing filtering on the customer-to-ISP network edge. By taking advantage of the information stored in the Forwarding Information Base (FIB) that is created by the CEF switching process, Unicast RPF can determine whether IP packets are spoofed or malformed by matching the IP source address and ingress interface against the FIB entry that reaches -backll to this source (a so-called -reverse lookupll). Packets that are received from one of the best reverse path routes back out of the same interface are forwarded as normal. If there is no reverse path route on the same interface from which the packet was received, it might mean that the source address was modified, and the packet is dropped (by default)..
