NEW QUESTION: 2Which of the following is the term used to describe the degree to which a task in an organisation is divided into a number of separate activities?A. CentralisationB. Work specialisationC. Span of controlD. FormalisationAnswer: B

NEW QUESTION: 3What is the difference between Access Control Lists (ACLs) and Capability Tables?A. Capability tables are used for objects whereas access control lists are used for users.B. They are basically the same.C. Access control lists are related/attached to an object whereas capability tables are related/attached to a subject.D. Access control lists are related/attached to a subject whereas capability tables are related/attached to an object.Answer: CExplanation: Capability tables are used to track, manage and apply controls based on the object and rights, or capabilities of a subject. For example, a table identifies the object, specifies access rights allowed for a subject, and permits access based on the user's possession of a capability (or ticket) for the object. It is a row within the matrix.To put it another way, A capability table is different from an ACL because the subject is bound to the capability table, whereas the object is bound to the ACL.CLEMENT NOTE:If we wish to express this very simply:Capabilities are attached to a subject and it describe what access the subject has to each of the objects on the row that matches with the subject within the matrix. It is a row within the matrix. ACL's are attached to objects, it describe who has access to the object and what type of access they have. It is a column within the matrix.The following are incorrect answers:"Access control lists are subject-based whereas capability tables are object-based" is incorrect."Capability tables are used for objects whereas access control lists are used for users" is incorrect."They are basically the same" is incorrect.
