NEW QUESTION: 1You have just configured IPv6 in your network. A packet arrives on your router that exceeds the MTU size. How will an IPv6 router respond?A. The packet is dropped.B. The packet is kept intact and not fragmented.C. The fragment offset is referenced and the packet is fragmented.D. The packet is fragmented based on extension headers.Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 2Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains a domaincontroller named DC1 that runs Windows Server 2012.You create an Active Directory snapshot of DC1 each day.You need to view the contents of an Active Directory snapshot from two days ago.What should you do first?A. Run the ntdsutil.exe command.B. Run the dsamain.exe command.C. Stop the Active Directory Domain Services (AD DS) service.D. Start the Volume Shadow Copy Service (VSS).Answer: A
Explanation:Mounting an Active Directory snapshot
Before connecting to the snapshot we need to mount it. By looking at the results of the List All command instep #8 above, identify the snapshot that you wish to mount, and note the number next to it.In order to mount an Active Directory snapshot follow these steps:Log on as a member of the Domain Admins group to one of your Windows Server 2008 Domain Controllers.Open a Command Prompt window by clicking on the CMD shortcut in the Start menu, or by typing CMD and pressing Enter in the Run or Quick Search parts of the Start menu.Note: You must run NTDSUTIL from an elevated command prompt. To open an elevated command prompt, click Start, right-click Command Prompt, and then click Run as administrator.In the CMD window, type the following command:ntdsutilIn the CMD window, type the following command:snapshotTo view all available snapshots, in the CMD window, type the following command:list allThe result should look like this:snapshot: List All1: 2008/10/25:03:14 {ec53ad62-8312-426f-8ad4-d47768351c9a}2: C: {15c6f880-cc5c-483b-86cf-8dc2d3449348}In this example we only have one snapshot available, one from 2008/10/25 at 03:14AM (yes, I write articles at this time...). We'll mount this one.In the CMD window, type the following command:mount 2The result should look like this:snapshot: mount 2Snapshot {15c6f880-cc5c-483b-86cf-8dc2d3449348} mounted as C:'$SNAP_200810250314_VOLUMECS$'Next, you can leave the NTDSUTIL running, or you can quit by typing quit 2 times.Note: Like the above command, the mounting process can also be run in one line. However, note that NTDSUTIL requires that the "list all" command be run in the same session that you mount the snapshot. So in order to mount the snapshot with a one-liner, you will need to run "list all" first.ntdsutil snapshot "list all" "mount 2" quit quitNote: You do not need to quit from the NTDSUTIL command, you can keep it open assuming that you'll probably want to unmount the snapshot right after working with it.
