NEW QUESTION: 1In Windows 2003 SP1 and greater, which Windows utility is used to properly align partitions to track boundaries?A. DiskpartB. SymdevC. Disk ManagementD. Diskpar
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2Which statement is true concerning the SAS automatic variable `_ERROR_`?A. It is automatically dropped.B. It cannot be used in an if/then condition.C. It cannot be used in an assignment statement.D. It can be put into a keep statement or keep= option.Answer: A

NEW QUESTION: 3Your network contains an Active Directory domain named contoso.com. The domain contains several domain controllers. The domain controllers run either Windows Server 2012 or Windows Server 2008 R2. The domain functional level is Windows Server 2008 R2. The forest functional level is Windows Server 2008. The corporate compliance policy states that all items deleted from Active Directory must be recoverable from a Recycle Bin. You need to recommend changes to the current environment to meet the compliance policy. Which changes should you recommend? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose all that apply.)A. Run the Set-ADForestMode cmdlet.B. Run the Enable-ADOptionalFeature cmdlet.C. Run the Set-ADDomainMode cmdlet.D. Run the Set-ADObject cmdlet.E. Run the New-ADObject cmdlet.Answer: A,B
Explanation:A: You can enable Active Directory Recycle Bin only if the forest functional level of your environment is set to Windows Server 2008 R2. The Set-ADForestMode cmdlet sets the Forest mode for an Active Directory forest. You specify the forest mode by setting the ForestMode parameter. Here we should set it to Windows2008R2Forest.E: Enabling Active Directory Recycle Bin After the forest functional level of your environment is set to Windows Server 2008 R2, you can enable Active Directory Recycle Bin by using the following methods: / Enable-ADOptionalFeature Active Directory module cmdlet (This is the recommended method.) / Ldp.exe

NEW QUESTION: 4The environment that must be protected includes all personnel, equipment, data, communication devices, power supply and wiring. The necessary level of protection depends on the value of the data, the computer systems, and the company assets within the facility. The value of these items can be determined by what type of analysis?A. Critical-conduit analysisB. Critical-channel analysisC. Critical-path analysisD. Covert channel analysisAnswer: C
Explanation:The effectiveness of security controls is measured by the probability of detection at the point where there is enough time for a response team to interrupt an adversary. The critical path is the adversary path with the lowest probability of interruption. An adversary path is an ordered sequence of actions against an asset that could result in it being compromised.

Adversaries could normally be expected to take the easiest and most direct route. Early detection of unauthorised access enables a quicker response. Ideally interception should occur before access to the asset, but this depends on the asset and the security objectives. Interruption may not be required if tamper evidence is the objective for protecting the asset. See example below: Critical Path Analysis Physical Security

THE CISSP EXAM AND PHYSICAL SECURITY

Information security depends on the security and management of the physical space in which computer systems operate. The CISSP exam's Common Body of Knowledge addresses the challenges of securing the physical space, its systems and the people who work within it by use of administrative, technical and physical controls. The following topics are covered:

Facilities management: The administrative processes that govern the maintenance and protection of the physical operations space, from site selection through emergency response.

Risks, issues and protection strategies: Risk identification and the selection of security protection components.

Perimeter security: Typical physical protection controls.

Facilities management: Facilities management is a complex component of corporate security that ranges from the planning of a secure physical site to the management of the physical information system environment. Facilities management responsibilities include site selection and physical security planning (i.e. facility construction, design and layout, fire and water damage protection, antitheft mechanisms, intrusion detection and security procedures.) Protections must extend to both people and assets. The necessary level of protection depends on the value of the assets and data.

As an exam candidate you must learn the concept of critical-path analysis as a means of determining a component's business function criticality relative to the cost of operation and replacement. Furthermore, students need to gain an understanding of the optimal location and physical attributes of a secure facility. Among the topics covered in this domain are site inspection, location, accessibility and obscurity, considering the area crime rate, and the likelihood of natural hazards such as floods or earthquakes.

EXAM TIP: This topic could be either from a Physical Security perspective or from a Logical Security Perspective. From a logical perspective it is defined as: An analysis that defines relationships between mission critical applications. This type of analysis is performed to show what must happen to stay in business.
