NEW QUESTION: 3Consider the following flow in an object:Which of these statements is true?

A. Only the first wait stage in this flow is required, all the other wait stages should be removed.

B. The wait stages after read and write stages should be removed they are not required and are lowering the flow downC. The wait stages after read stages should be removed, the wart stages after write stages should be left because the application will have been changedD. The flow shown in the diagram is correct, the wart stages are all adding a high level of robustness to the actionAnswer: BExplanation:Reason: There is no wait stage required after Read and write stage as it makes the process lengthy here, because here no activity is performed which are taking time to read and write so wait is not useful.Here wait is required for search fields as there the activity is happening in which it is required for wait.
