NEW QUESTION: 1A network administrator is assigned an approved change request with a change window of 120 minutes. After 90 minutes, the change is stuck on step five of a five-step change. The network manager decides to initiate a rollback. Which of the following describes what the network administrator will do NEXT?A. Return the system to step four since this was the last working step.B. Leave the change as is and inform users of a workaround.C. Request additional time since the change is near completion.D. Return the system back to the original state before the change.Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 2A. Option B. Option C. Option D. Option D*Answer: D*Explanation: Explanation You can use CloudWatch Events to trigger an AWS Lambda function to start and stop your EC2 instances at scheduled intervals. Note: This article provides an example for a simple solution. For a more robust solution, see AWS Instance Scheduler. Resolution CloudWatch Events allows you to create an event that is triggered at a specified time or interval in response to events that take place in your account. For example, you can create an event using CloudWatch Events for a specific time of day, or you can create an alarm when CPU utilization for an instance reaches a specific threshold. You can also configure a Lambda function to start and stop instances when triggered by these events. In this example, we use Lambda functions to start and stop EC2 instances, and then we use CloudWatch Events to start instances in the morning and stop the instances at night.1. Open the AWS Lambda console, and choose Create function.2. Choose Author from scratch.3. Enter a Name for your function, such as "StopEC2Instances."4. From the Runtime drop-down menu, choose Python2.7.5. Expand the Role drop-down menu, and then choose Create a custom role. This opens a new tab or window in your browser.6. In the IAM Role drop-down menu, choose Create a new IAM Role, and enter a Role Name, such as "lambda_start_stop_ec2."7. Expand View Policy Document, choose Edit, and then choose Ok when prompted to read the documentation.

NEW QUESTION: 3A. Option B. Option C. Option D. Option E. Option F. Option B

Answer: C Explanation: What Is Administrative Distance?

http://www.cisco.com/en/US/tech/tk365/technologies_tech_note09186a0080094195.shtml

Select the Best Path Administrative distance is the first criterion that a router uses to determine which routing protocol to use if two protocols provide route information for the same destination. Administrative distance is a measure of the trustworthiness of the source of the routing information. Administrative distance has only local significance, and is not advertised in routing updates. Note: The smaller the administrative distance value, the more reliable the protocol. For example, if a router receives a route to a certain network from both Open Shortest Path First (OSPF) (default administrative distance - 110) and Interior Gateway Routing Protocol (IGRP) (default administrative distance - 100), the router chooses IGRP because IGRP is more reliable. This means the router adds the IGRP version of the route to the routing table.
