NEW QUESTION: 2Your network contains one Active Directory forest named adatum.com. The forest contains a single domain. The site topology for the forest is shown in the exhibit. (Click the Exhibit button.) Each site contains one domain controller. Site link bridging is disabled. You need to ensure that changes made to Site1 replicate to Site5 within one replication cycle. What should you create?
A. a site link B. a site link bridge C. a site D. a subnet
Answer: A
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: For replication to occur between two sites, a link must be established between the sites. Site links are not generated automatically and can be created in Active Directory Sites and Services. Unless a site link is in place, the KCC cannot create connections automatically between computers in the two sites, and replication between the sites cannot take place.
