NEW QUESTION: 2 Repos are used for:
I. Short term borrowings
II. Managing credit risk exposures
III. Money market operations by central banks
IV. Facilitating short positions
A. I, III and IV
B. II and IV
C. I, II and III
D. II, III and IV
Answer: A
Explanation: Repos are collateralized borrowing arrangements. They are used for providing short term funding. They are not used for managing credit risk exposures. They are also used by central banks as part of their money market operations. They are also useful for facilitating short positions, for example, in corporate bonds where the party desirous of shorting the bond may 'borrow' the bond on repo in order to be able to sell it short.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Which statement is true when considering a Cisco VoIP environment for regional configuration?
A. G.729 requires 24K of bandwidth per call.
B. The default codec does not matter if you have defined a hardware MTP in your Cisco Unified Communications Manager environment.C. To deploy a Cisco H.323 gatekeeper, you must configure MTP resources on the gatekeeper and only use G.711 between regions.D. G.711 requires 128K of bandwidth per call.

Answer: AExplanation:The Cisco best practice enforces G.729/24K to compress BW for regions. The hardware MTP only supports G.711 a-law and G.711 u-law. Also regions will need transcoders if multiple codecs are deployed, NOT hardware MTP. Talking to other friends of mine, it seems that there is a question on the exam now, where it asks for two answers, then, it would be B and C, but taking in consideration the below questions asks for one answer only, the most correct one is B.
