NEW QUESTION: 2

You have a containerized solution that runs in Azure Container Instances.

The solution contains a frontend container named App1 and a backend container named DB1.

DB1 loads a large amount of data during startup. You need to verify that DB1 can handle incoming requests before users can submit requests to App1. What should you configure? A. a readiness probe B. a performance log C. a liveness probe D. an Azure Load Balancer health probe Answer: A Explanation: Explanation For containerized applications that serve traffic, you might want to verify that your container is ready to handle incoming requests. Azure Container

Instances supports readiness probes to include configurations so that your container can't be accessed under certain conditions. Reference:
