NEW QUESTION: 1Your network contains an Active Directory domain. The domain contains a Windows Server Update Services (WSUS) server named Server1. A Group Policy object (GPO) named GPO1 configures all computers in the domain to use Server1 for Windows Update. You add a new Windows 7 computer named Computer1 to the domain. From the Update Services console, you discover that Computer1 is not listed as a member of any computer groups. You verify that GPO1 is applied to Computer1. You need to ensure that Computer1 is available in the Update Services console. What should you do?
A. On Computer1, run wuauclt.exe /reportnow.
B. On Server1, run wsusutil.exe listinactiveapprovals.
C. On Server1, run wsusutil.exe reset.
D. On Computer1, run wuauclt.exe /detectnow.
Answer: A
Explanation: wuauclt.exe /reportnow This will force the client to report its status to the server, at which point it should show up in the Update Services console.
WRONG ANSWERS wuauclt.exe /detectnow This would force the client to look for new updates from its server immediately, but would not ensure it is officially registered with the server. So likely it would receive these updates from Microsoft.
wsusutil.exe reset This will check that every update in the database has corresponding update files stored in the file system. In other words, it would make sure that your client has all the right files for reinstalling patches.
wsusutil.exe listinactiveapprovals This will return a list of updates with approvals in a permanently inactive state because of a change in server language settings.
