NEW QUESTION: 1What would be the name of a Logical or Virtual Table dynamically generated to restrict the information a user can access in a database?
A. Database security
B. Database Management system
C. Database shadowing
D. Database views
Answer: D
Explanation:Database views; Database views are mechanisms that restrict access to the information that a user can access in a database.
Source: KRUTZ, Ronald L.& VINES, Russel D., The CISSP Prep Guide: Mastering the Ten Domains of Computer Security, 2001, John Wiley & Sons, Page 35.
Wikipedia has a detailed explanation as well: In database theory, a view is a virtual or logical table composed of the result set of a query. Unlike ordinary tables (base tables) in a relational database, a view is not part of the physical schema: it is a dynamic, virtual table computed or collated from data in the database. Changing the data in a table alters the data shown in the view. Views can provide advantages over tables; They can subset the data contained in a table. They can join and simplify multiple tables into a single virtual table. Views can act as aggregated tables, where aggregated data (sum, average etc.) are calculated and presented as part of the data. Views can hide the complexity of data, for example a view could appear as Sales2000 or Sales2001, transparently partitioning the actual underlying table. Views do not incur any extra storage overhead. Depending on the SQL engine used, views can provide extra security. Limit the exposure to which a table or tables are exposed to outer world. Just like functions (in programming) provide abstraction, views can be used to create abstraction. Also, just like functions, views can be nested, thus one view can aggregate data from other views. Without the use of views it would be much harder to normalise databases above second normal form. Views can make it easier to create lossless join decomposition.

NEW QUESTION: 4You manage a hybrid solution for a company. Several connections need to be created to use data from Azure expose services to Azure and use application resources in other networks. You need to recommend configurations for the connections. What should you recommend? To answer, drag the appropriate solutions to the correct scenarios. Each solution may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content. NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point. Answer:
Explanation: Explanation Box 1: Azure on-premises data gateway The on-premises data gateway acts as a bridge, providing secure data transfer between on-premises data sources and your Azure Analysis Services servers in the cloud. Box 2: Azure App Service with Hybrid Connections Within App Service, Hybrid Connections can be used to access application resources in other networks. The Hybrid Connections feature requires a relay agent in the network that hosts your Hybrid Connection endpoint. That relay agent is called the Hybrid Connection Manager (HCM). Box 3: Azure Relay service The Azure Relay service enables you to securely expose services that run in your corporate network to the public cloud. You can do so without opening a firewall connection, or making intrusive changes to your corporate network infrastructure.
