NEW QUESTION: 3Note: This question is part of a series of questions that present the same scenario. Each question in the series contains a unique solution that might meet stated goals. Some questions sets might have more than one correct solution, while others might not have a correct solution.After you answer a question in this section, you will NOT be able to return to it. As a result, these questions will not appear in the review screen.You deploy a new Microsoft Azure SQL database instance to support a variety of mobile application and public websites. You configure geo-replication with regions in Brazil and Japan.You need to implement real-time encryption of the database and all backups.Solution: you enable Dynamic Data Masking on the primary replica.Does the solution meet the goal?A. NoB. YesAnswer: AExplanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:SQL Database dynamic data masking does not encrypt the data. Transparent Data Encryption (TDE) would provide a solution. Note: SQL Database dynamic data masking limits sensitive data exposure by masking it to non-privileged users. Dynamic data masking helps prevent unauthorized access to sensitive data by enabling customers to designate how much of the sensitive data to reveal with minimal impact on the application layer.
