ExplanationCreating a Final Snapshot and Retaining Automated BackupsWhen you delete a DB instance, you can choose whether to create a final snapshot of the DB instance. You can also choose to retain automated backups after the DB instance is deleted. To be able to restore the DB instance at a later time, create a final snapshot or retain automated backups.
With Final SnapshotWithout Final SnapshotRetain Automated BackupsHow to chooseTo be able to restore your deleted DB instance at a later time, create a final DB snapshot.To delete a DB instance quickly, you can skip creating a final DB snapshot.
ImportantIf you skip the snapshot, to restore your DB instance you need one of the following:
* You have to use an earlier manual snapshot of the DB instance to restore the DB instance to that snapshot's point in time.
* You have to choose to retain automated backups; you can use those to restore it to any point in time* within your retention period.
Instead of creating a snapshot, you can choose to enable Retain automated backups when you delete a DB instance. These backups are still subject to the retention period of the DB instance and age out the same way systems snapshots do.
Automated backupsAll automated backups are deleted and can't be recovered, unless you enable Retain automated backups.All automated backups are deleted and can't be recovered, unless you choose to retain automated backups when you delete the DB instance.
