NEW QUESTION: 1 According to its corporate security policy, ABC Company is creating a 'WLAN Security and Performance' checklist to assure that all autonomous access point deployments are consistently secure and maximize performance. What item does not belong on such a checklist?
A. WIPS mode is enabled on each AP
B. Cipher suite is CCMP
C. Default passwords are changed
D. Preauthentication is enabled
E. 802.1X/EAP is in use
Answer: A
Explanation: While APs may have scanning capabilities that allow them to report the presence of an unauthorized device and the status of the RF environment around them, autonomous APs do not have a 'WIPS mode.' CCMP is specified by the 802.11i amendment as the default cipher suite, and is presently unbreakable. Autonomous APs have many management interfaces such as HTTP, telnet, console, and SNMP. Each of these management interfaces supports a default user login. The default user login parameters should be changed prior to deployment. Preauthentication is specified by the 802.11i amendment to speed authentication with new APs by allowing client devices to authenticate to APs to which they expect to roam. 802.1X/EAP provides a scalable authentication method capable of supporting tunneled client authentication data. 802.1X/EAP is the most common authentication scheme in enterprise WLANs today.

Explanation: * Object.prototype.constructor Returns a reference to the Object function that created the instance's prototype. Note that the value of this property is a reference to the function itself, not a string containing the function's name. The value is only read-only for primitive values such as 1, true and "test". * The constructor property is created together with the function as a single property of func.prototype. Reference: Object.prototype.constructor
