Use only show commands to troubleshoot the issues.Why applications that are installed on PC's in R2 LAN network 10.100.20.0/24 are unable to communicate with server1?A. A standard ACL statement that is configured on R1 is blocking traffic sourced from R2 LAN network.B. A standard ACL statement that is configured on R1 is blocking the traffic sourced from Server1 network.C. A standard ACL statement that is configured on R2 is blocking the traffic sourced from Server1 network.D. A standard ACL statement that is configured on R2 is blocking the traffic sourced from R2 network.Answer: CExplanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:We should check if we can ping from R1 to Server 1 or not:The ping worked well so maybe R1 is good so we should check R2 first. We notice on R2 there is an access-list:This access-list is applied to E0/2 interface with inbound direction. The purpose of this access-list is to block traffic with source IP address of 172.16.200.0/24 so it will block all traffic sent from Server 1 to us.

NEW QUESTION: 2A client of yours has a huge amount of data stored on Amazon S3, but is concerned about someone stealing it while it is in transit. You know that all data is encrypted in transit on AWS, but which of the following is wrong when describing server-side encryption on AWS?A. In server-side encryption, you manage encryption/decryption of your data, the encryption keys, and related tools.B. Server-side encryption is about data encryption at rest--that is, Amazon S3 encrypts your data as it writes it to disks.C. Amazon S3 server-side encryption uses one of the strongest block ciphers available, 256-bit Advanced Encryption Standard (AES-256), to encrypt your data.D. Amazon S3 server-side encryption employs strong multi-factor encryption.Answer: AExplanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Amazon S3 encrypts your object before saving it on disks in its data centers and decrypts it when you download the objects. You have two options depending on how you choose to manage the encryption keys: Server-side encryption and client-side encryption. Server-side encryption is about data encryption at rest--that is, Amazon S3 encrypts your data as it writes it to disks in its data centers and decrypts it for you when you access it. As long as you authenticate your request and you have access permissions, there is no difference in the way you access encrypted or unencrypted objects. Amazon S3 manages encryption and decryption for you. For example, if you share your objects using a pre-signed URL, that URL works the same way for both encrypted and unencrypted objects. In client-side encryption, you manage encryption/decryption of your data, the encryption keys, and related tools. Server-side encryption is an alternative to client-side encryption in which Amazon S3 manages the encryption of your data, freeing you from the tasks of managing encryption and encryption keys. Amazon S3 server-side encryption employs strong multi-factor encryption. Amazon S3 encrypts each object with a unique key. As an additional safeguard, it encrypts the key itself with a master key that it regularly rotates. Amazon S3 server-side encryption uses one of the strongest block ciphers available, 256-bit Advanced Encryption Standard (AES-256), to encrypt your data. Reference:
