NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following is not a step in the strategic planning process?
A. Environmental scanning
B. Formulating strategy
C. Making adjustments to strategy
D. Creating business plan
E. Implementing strategy
Answer: D
Explanation: Explanation: Creating a business plan, while useful for businesses that are in their early stages, is not an identifiable step within the strategic planning process that a human resources professional may complete. On the other hand, completing an environmental scan (answer choice A), formulating a strategy (answer choice B), implementing that strategy (answer choice D), and adjusting the strategy (answer choice E) are all significant steps in the strategic planning process. It is important to bear in mind that strategic planning is related largely to a company's future goals for growth and improvement.
