NEW QUESTION: 3 Your network contains an Active Directory domain named adatum.com. The domain contains a file server named Server1 that runs Windows Server 2012 R2. All client computers run Windows 7. You need to ensure that user settings are saved to \\Server1\Users. What should you do? A. From the properties of each user account, configure the User profile settings. B. From a Group Policy object (GPO), configure the Drive Maps preferences. C. From the properties of each user account, configure the Home folder settings. D. From a Group Policy object (GPO), configure the Folder Redirection settings. Answer: D Explanation: Explanation User settings and user files are typically stored in the local user profile, under the Users folder. The files in local user profiles can be accessed only from the current computer, which makes it difficult for users who use more than one computer to work with their data and synchronize settings between multiple computers. Two technologies exist to address this problem: Roaming Profiles and Folder Redirection. Folder Redirection lets administrators redirect the path of a folder to a new location. The location can be a folder on the local computer or a directory on a network file share. Users can work with documents on a server as if the documents were based on a local drive. The documents in the folder are available to the user from any computer on the network. Folder Redirection is located under Windows Settings in the console tree when you edit domain-based Group Policy by using the Group Policy Management Console (GPMC).Reference: Folder Redirection Overview
