NEW QUESTION: 1 Assume you are the Test Manager for a new software release of an e-commerce application. The server farm consists of six servers providing different capabilities. Each capability is provided through a set of web services. The requirements specification document contains several SLAs (Service Level Agreements) like the following: SLA-001: 99.5 percent of all transactions shall have a response time less than five seconds under a load of up-to 5000 concurrent users. The main objective is to assure that all the SLAs specified in the requirements specification document will be met before system release. You decide to apply a risk-based testing strategy and an early risk analysis confirms that performance is high risk. You can count on a well-written requirements specification and on a model of the system behavior under various load levels produced by the system architect. Which of the following test activities would you expect to be the less important ones to achieve the test objectives in this scenario?
A. Perform unit performance testing for each single web service
B. Perform system performance testing, consisting of several performance testing sessions, to verify if all the SLAs have been met
C. Perform static performance testing by reviewing the architectural model of the system under various load levels
D. Monitor the SLAs after the system has been released into the production environment
Answer: D Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation:

NEW QUESTION: 2 Refer to the exhibit. Service provider SP 1 is running the MPLS-VPN service. The MPLS core network has MP-BGP configured with RR-1 as route reflector. What will be the effect on traffic between PE1 and PE2 if router P1 goes down?
A. All traffic will be lost because RR-1 will lose the MP-BGP sessions to PE-1 and PE-2.
B. No effect, because P1 was not the only P router in the forwarding path of traffic.
C. No effect, because RR-1 will find an alternative path for MP-BGP sessions to PE-1 and PE-2.
D. No effect, because all traffic between PE1 and PE2 will be rerouted through P2.
Answer: A Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: If the connection to the route reflector goes down, then routes from PE-1 will not get advertised to PE2, and vice versa. Route reflectors are critical in an MPLS VPN such as the one shown, which is why it is a best practice to have multiple route reflectors in this kind of network.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Which of the following are the phases of the Certification and Accreditation (C&A) process? Each correct answer represents a complete solution. Choose two.
A. Continuous Monitoring
