NEW QUESTION: 1Senior management commitment and support for information security can BEST be obtained through presentations that:
A. explain the technical risks to the organization.
B. use illustrative examples of successful attacks.
C. tie security risks to key business objectives.
D. evaluate the organization against best security practices.
Answer: C
Explanation:Senior management seeks to understand the business justification for investing in security. This can best be accomplished by tying security to key business objectives. Industry best practices are important to senior management but, again, senior management will give them the right level of importance when they are presented in terms of key business objectives.
