NEW QUESTION: 2 You have enabled DML by issuing: ALTER session ENABLE PARALLEL DML; The PARALLEL_DEGREE_POLICY initialization parameter is set to AUTO. Which two options true about DML statements for which parallel execution is requested? A. Statements for which PDML is requested will execute serially estimated time is less than the time specified by the PARALLEL_MIN_THRESHOLD parameter. B. Statements for which PDML is requested will be queued if the number of busy parallel execution servers greater than PARALLEL_MIN_SERVERS parameter. C. Statement for which PDML is requested will be queued if the number of busy parallel execution servers is greater than PARALLEL_DEGREE_LIMIT parameter. D. Statements for which PDML is requested will always execute in parallel if estimated execution in parallel if estimated execution time is greater than the time specified by the PARALLEL_MIN_TIME_THRESHOLD parameter. E. Statements for which PDML is requested will be queued if the number of busy parallel execution servers is greater than PARALLEL_SERVERS_TARGET parameter. Answer: D, E Explanation: C: PARALLEL_MIN_TIME_THRESHOLD specifies the minimum execution time a statement should have before the statement is considered for automatic degree of parallelism. By default, this is set to 30 seconds. Automatic degree of parallelism is only enabled if PARALLEL_DEGREE_POLICY is set to AUTO or LIMITED. D: PARALLEL_SERVERS_TARGET specifies the number of parallel server processes allowed to run parallel statements before statement queuing will be used. When the parameter PARALLEL_DEGREE_POLICY is set to AUTO, Oracle will queue SQL statements that require parallel execution, if the necessary parallel server processes are not available. Statement queuing will begin once the number of parallel server processes active on the system is equal to or greater than PARALLEL_SERVER_TARGET. Note: * PARALLEL_DEGREE_POLICY specifies whether or not automatic degree of Parallelism, statement queuing, and in-memory parallel execution will be enabled. AUTO Enables automatic degree of parallelism, statement queuing, and in-memory parallel execution.*

PARALLEL_MIN_SERVERS specifies the minimum number of parallel execution processes for the instance. This value is the number of parallel execution processes Oracle creates when the instance is started. Reference: Oracle Database Reference; PARALLEL_SERVERS_TARGET
