NEW QUESTION: 2 Sir Giles's irritating reserve, not even excused by a word of apology, reached the limits of his endurance. He respectfully protested. "I regret to find, sir," he said, "that I have lost my place in my employer's estimation. The man to whom you confide the superintendence of your clerks and the transaction of your business has, I venture to think, some claim (under the present circumstances) to be trusted." The banker was now offended on his side. "I readily admit your claim," he answered, "when you are sitting at your desk in my office. But, even in these days of strikes, co-operations, and bank holidays, an employer has one privilege left--he has not ceased to be a Man, and he has not forfeited a man's right to keep his own secrets. I fail to see anything in my conduct which has given you just reason to complain." Dennis, rebuked, made his bow in silence, and withdrew. Did these acts of humility mean that he submitted? They meant exactly the contrary. He had made up his mind that Sir Giles Mountjoy's motives should, sooner or later, cease to be mysteries to Sir Giles Mountjoy's clerk. In context, the words "irritating reserve" in first paragraph is best represented by the word A. perturbation. B. patience. C. anguish. D. tolerance. E. level of resistance Answer: B Explanation: Explanation/Reference: When Dennis' patience ran out, he protested.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Ann is the data owner of financial records for a company. She has requested that she have the ability to assign read and write privileges to her folders. The network administrator is tasked with setting up the initial access control system and handing Ann's administrative capabilities. Which of the following systems should be deployed? A. Mandatory B. Rule-based C. Discretionary D. Role-based Answer: C Explanation: In a Discretionary Access Control (DAC) model, network users have some flexibility regarding how information is accessed. This model allows users to share information dynamically with other users. Discretionary access control (DAC) allows access to be granted or restricted by an object's owner based on user identity and on the discretion of the object owner. In this question, Ann has requested that she have the ability to assign read and write privileges to her folders. Read and write access to Ann's files will be granted by Ann at her discretion. Therefore, this is an example of Discretionary Access Control.

NEW QUESTION: 4 Chris has been called upon to investigate a hacking incident reported by one of his clients. The company suspects the involvement of an insider accomplice in the attack. Upon reaching the incident scene, Chris secures the physical area, records the scene using visual media. He shuts the system down by pulling the power plug so that he does not disturb the system in any way. He labels all cables and connectors prior to disconnecting any.
