NEW QUESTION: 1 Two different Cisco networks are displayed below: The two networks shown in the diagram have very different traffic patterns, as illustrated by the black arrows. Network A has two departments organized in separate VLANs. Each department VLAN contains the servers and printers that are used by the department personnel. The only common resource used by both departments is the email server, located on a remote network. Network B also has two departments organized in separate VLANs. All of the applications used by both departments are located on common database servers. The common database servers are located in a server farm on a separate network from the users. Which three statements are true about the networks in this diagram? (Choose three) A. Network A is designed to keep 80% of the traffic within the local workgroup. B. Network B illustrates the 20/80 rule. C. Network A is designed to have 80% of the traffic pass through the Layer 3 switches. D. Network B is designed so that distribution layer switches concentrate users in their own VLANs. E. The design in Network B will require a higher performance Layer 3 switch. F. Network A is designed to accommodate file transfers from other department servers on a frequent basis. Answer: A,B,E Explanation: The 80/20 rule states that 80 percent of the traffic is "local" to the workgroup while 20 percent is remote or outside of the workgroup. In theory, by properly configuring VLANs or by using layer 3 devices to match workgroups, only the 20 percent of the traffic that is not local will need to pass through a router and out of the workgroup, improving performance for the 80 percent of the traffic that is within the workgroup. As shown by the traffic patterns pertaining to these two networks, only network A correctly represents this 80/20 rule, while network B shows the 20/80 rule. In network B, a layer 3 switch should be added to increase network performance, while also decreasing the amount of broadcast traffic.
