NEW QUESTION: 1Which of the following would provide the STRONGEST encryption?A. Random one-time padB. AES with a 256-bit keyC. RSA with a 1024-bit keyD. DES with a 56-bit keyAnswer: A
Explanation:One-time pads are the only truly completely secure cryptographic implementations.They are so secure for two reasons. First, they use a key that is as long as a plaintext message. That means there is no pattern in the key application for an attacker to use. Also, one-time pad keys are used only once and then discarded. So even if you could break a one-time pad cipher, that same key would never be used again, so knowledge of the key would be useless.
