NEW QUESTION: 3Your company has an Active Directory domain. You plan to install the Active Directory Certificate Services (AD CS) server role on a member server that runs Windows Server 2008 R2.You need to ensure that members of the Account Operators group are able to issue smartcard credentials. They should not be able to revoke certificates.Which three actions should you perform? (Each correct answer presents part of the solution. Choose three.)A. Create an Enrollment Agent certificate.B. Install the AD CS server role and configure it as a Standalone CA .C. Restrict enrollment agents for the Smartcard logon certificate to the Account Operator group.D. Install the AD CS server role and configure it as an Enterprise Root CA .E.

Restrict certificate managers for the Smartcard logon certificate to the Account Operator group.F. Create a Smartcard logon certificate.Answer: C,D,FExplanation:The question specifies you have an AD domain, so you would want to configure AD CS services as an Enterprise Root CA rather than Standalone. The use of smartcards in a domain requires the Smartcard logon certificate. You must ensure Account Operators can issue smartcards, meaning they must be able to enroll in Smartcard certificates. This is done by editing the Enrollment Agents for the certificate template. Restricting managers will allow the Account Operators to manage the template itself, including the ability to revoke certificates.
