NEW QUESTION: 4 You have an Office 365 tenant that has an Enterprise E3 subscription. You enable Azure Rights Management for users in the tenant. You need to define the methods that you can implement to encrypt and decrypt email messages. What should you do? To answer, drag the appropriate method to the correct action. Each method may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content. Answer: Explanation: Explanation As an Office 365 global administrator, you can create mail flow rules, also known as transport rules, to help protect email messages you send and receive. You can set up rules to encrypt any outgoing email messages and remove encryption from encrypted messages coming from inside your organization or from replies to encrypted messages sent from your organization. To view encrypted messages, recipients can either get a one-time password, sign in with a Microsoft account, or sign in with a work or school account associated with Office 365. Recipients can also send encrypted replies. They don't need an Office 365 subscription to view encrypted messages or send encrypted replies.
