You need to optimize query executions. What should you do? A. Set the maximum degree of parallelism for SQL Server instances to 32. B. Move the master database to a RAID 5 volume. C. Set the maximum degree of parallelism for SQL Server instances to 1. D. Set the maximum degree of parallelism for SQL Server instances to 4. Answer: C Explanation: The read performance will double with a RAID 10 volume. Incorrect: not A, not D: The master database records all the system-level information for a SQL Server system. This includes instance-wide metadata such as logon accounts, endpoints, linked servers, and system configuration settings. Not C: This is already the default settings. * By default, the Max Degree Of Parallelism setting has a value of 0, which means that the maximum number of processors used for parallel processing is controlled automatically. Essentially, SQL Server uses the actual number of available processors, depending on the workload. To limit the number of processors used for parallel processing to a set amount (up to the maximum supported by SQL Server), change the Max Degree Of Parallelism setting to a value greater than 1. A value of 1 tells SQL Server not to use parallel processing.
