NEW QUESTION: 23B:23:a5:6d:ad:a5:76:83:9c:c3:c4:55:a5:18:98:a6
A. Option AB. Option DC. Option CD. Option EE. Option B
Answer: B,E
Explanation:The fingerprints are used to guard against man in the middle attacks. Since ssh logins usually work over the internet (an insecure connection), someone could hijack your connection. When you try to log into yourmachine.com, he could get "in the middle" and return your challenge as if he was yourmachine.com. That way, he could get hold of your login password.To make this attack harder, ssh stores the fingerprint of the server's public key on the first connection attempt. You will see a prompt like:The authenticity of host 'eisen (137.43.366.64)' can't be established.RSA key fingerprint is cf:55:30:31:7f:f0:c4:a0:9a:02:1d:1c:41:cf:63:cf.Are you sure you want to continue connecting (yes/no)When you enter yes, ssh will add the fingerprint to your known_hosts file. you will see Code:Warning: Permanently added 'eisen, 137.43.366.64' (RSA) to the list of known hosts.The next time you login, ssh will check whether the host key has changed. A changing host key usually indicates a man in the middle attack, and ssh refuses to connect.

NEW QUESTION: 3Which of the following was developed in order to protect against fraud in electronic fund transfers (EFT) by ensuring the message comes from its claimed originator and that it has not been altered in transmission?
A. Secure Hash Standard (SHS)
B. Cyclic Redundancy Check (CRC)
C. Secure Electronic Transaction (SET)
D. Message Authentication Code (MAC)
Answer: D
Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:In order to protect against fraud in electronic fund transfers, the Message Authentication Code (MAC), ANSI X9.9, was developed. The MAC is a check value, which is derived from the contents of the message itself, that is sensitive to the bit changes in a message. It is similar to a Cyclic Redundancy Check (CRC).A MAC is appended to the message before it is transmitted. At the receiving end, a MAC is generated from the received message and is compared to the MAC of an original message. A match indicates that the message was received without any modification occurring while en route.Incorrect Answers:A: A consortium including MasterCard and Visa developed SET in 1997 as a means of preventing fraud from occurring during electronic payments. SET provides confidentiality for purchases by encrypting the payment information. Thus, the seller cannot read this information. This is not what is described in the question.C: Cyclic redundancy checking is a method of checking for errors in data that has been transmitted on a communications link. A sending device applies a 16- or 32-bit polynomial to a block of data that is to be transmitted and appends the resulting cyclic redundancy code (CRC) to the block. This is not what is described in the question.D: The Secure Hash Standard (SHS) is a set of cryptographically secure hash algorithms specified by the National Institute of Standards and Technology (NIST). This is not what is described in the question.
