PowerShell D. Applications and Services Logs/Microsoft/Windows/PowerShell/Operational

Answer: D Explanation: https://docs.microsoft.com/en-us/powershell/wmf/5.0/audit_script

While Windows PowerShell already has the LogPipelineExecutionDetails Group Policy setting to log the invocation of cmdlets, PowerShell's scripting language has plenty of features that you might want to log and/or audit. The new Detailed Script Tracing feature lets you enable detailed tracking and analysis of Windows PowerShell scripting use on a system. After you enable detailed script tracing, Windows PowerShell logs all script blocks to the ETW (event tracing for windows) event log - Microsoft-WindowsPowerShell/Operational. If a script block creates another script block (for example, a script that calls the Invoke-Expression cmdlet on a string), that resulting script block is logged as well. Logging of these events can be enabled through the Turn on PowerShell Script Block Logging Group Policy setting (in Administrative Templates -> Windows Components -> Windows PowerShell).
