NEW QUESTION: 1You manage a Microsoft Dynamics 2016 on-premises installation. You install the Microsoft Dynamics CRM website with a port number other than 80. You need to ensure that Microsoft Dynamics CRM users are able to connect to the Microsoft Dynamics CRM Web server without having to specify the port number. What should you do? A. Configure a host header in Internet Information Service (IIS). B. Use Deployment Manager to change the URL while specifying the unique port. C. Configure network load balancing. D. Configure folder redirection in Internet Information Service (IIS). Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 2You have a web application that uses a MongoDB database. You plan to migrate the web application to Azure. You must migrate to Cosmos DB while minimizing code and configuration changes. You need to design the Cosmos DB configuration. What should you recommend? To answer, select the appropriate values in the answer area. NOTE: Each correct selection is worth one point. Answer: Explanation: Explanation MongoDB compatibility: API* API: MongoDB API* Azure Cosmos DB comes with multiple APIs: * SQL API, a JSON document database service that supports SQL queries. This is compatible with the former Azure DocumentDB.* MongoDB API, compatible with existing Mongo DB libraries, drivers, tools and applications.* Cassandra API, compatible with existing Apache Cassandra libraries, drivers, tools, and applications.* Azure Table API, a key-value database service compatible with existing Azure Table Storage.* Gremlin (graph) API, a graph database service supporting Apache Tinkerpop's graph traversal language, Gremlin.References:

NEW QUESTION: 3Note: This question is part of a series of questions that use the same scenario. For your convenience, the scenario is repeated in each question. Each question presents a different goal and answer choices, but the text of the scenario is exactly the same in each question in this series.You have five servers that run Microsoft Windows 2012 R2. Each server hosts a Microsoft SQL Server instance. The topology for the environment is shown in the following diagram.You have an Always On Availability group named AG1. The details for AG1 are shown in the following table.Instance1 experiences heavy read-write traffic. The instance hosts a database named OperationsMain that is four terabytes (TB) in size. The database has multiple data files and filegroups. One of the filegroups is read_only and is half of the total database size.Instance4 and Instance5 are not part of AG1. Instance4 is engaged in heavy read-write I/O. Instance5 hosts a database named StagedExternal. A nightly BULK INSERT process loads data into an empty table that has a rowstore clustered index and two nonclustered rowstore indexes.You must minimize the growth of the StagedExternal database log file during the BULK INSERT operations and perform point-in-time recovery after the BULK INSERT transaction. Changes made must not interrupt the log backup chain.You plan to add a new instance named Instance6 to a datacenter that is geographically distant from Site1 and Site2. You must minimize latency between the nodes in AG1.All databases use the full recovery model. All backups are written to the network location \SQLBackup. A separate process copies backups to an offsite location. You should minimize both the time required to restore the databases and the space required to store backups. The recovery point objective (RPO) for each instance is shown in the following table.Full backups of OperationsMain take longer than six hours to complete. All SQL Server backups use the keyword COMPRESSION.You plan to deploy the following solutions to the environment. The solutions will access a database named DB1 that is part of AG1.* Reporting system: This solution accesses data inDB1with a login that is mapped to a database user that is a member of the db_datareader role. The user has EXECUTE permissions on the database. Queries make no changes to the data. The queries must be load balanced over variable read-only replicas.* Operations system: This solution accesses data inDB1with a login that is mapped to a database user that is a member of the db_datareader and db_datawriter roles. The user has EXECUTE permissions on the database. Queries from the operations system will perform both DDL and DML operations.The wait statistics monitoring requirements for the instances are described in the following table.You need to reduce the amount of time it takes to backup OperationsMain.What should you do?A. Modify the backup script to use the keyword SKIP in the FILE_SNAPSHOT statement.B. Modify the full database backups script to stripe the backup across multiple backup files.C. Modify the backup script to use the keyword NO_COMPRESSION in the WITH statement.D. Modify the backup script to use the keyword SKIP in the WITH statementAnswer: BExplanation:ExplanationOne of the filegroup is read_only should be as it only need to be backup up once. Partial backups are useful whenever you want to exclude read-only filegroups. A partial backup resembles a full database backup, but a partial backup does not contain all the filegroups. Instead, for a read-write database, a partial backup contains the data in the primary filegroup, every read-write filegroup, and, optionally, one or more read-only files. A partial backup of a read-only database contains only the primary filegroup.From scenario: Instance1 experiences heavy read-write traffic. The instance hosts a database named OperationsMainthat is four terabytes (TB) in size. The database has multiple data files and filegroups. One of the filegroups is read_only and is half of the total database size.References:
