NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following is a name, symbol, or slogan with which a product is identified?
A. Patent B. Trade secret C. Trademark D. Copyright
Answer: C
Explanation:
Explanation/Reference: Explanation: A trademark is a name, symbol, or slogan with which a product is identified. Its uniqueness makes the product noticeable among the same type of products. For example, Pentium and Athlon are brand names of the CPUs that are manufactured by Intel and AMD, respectively. The trademark law protects a company's trademark by making it illegal for other companies to use it without taking prior permission of the trademark owner. A trademark is registered so that others cannot use identical or similar marks. Answer: C is incorrect. A trade secret is a formula, practice, process, design, instrument, pattern, or compilation of information which is not generally known. It helps a business to obtain an economic advantage over its competitors or customers. In some jurisdictions, such secrets are referred to as confidential information or classified information. Answer: B is incorrect. A copyright is a form of intellectual property, which secures to its holder the exclusive right to produce copies of his or her works of original expression, such as a literary work, movie, musical work or sound recording, painting, photograph, computer program, or industrial design, for a defined, yet extendable, period of time. It does not cover ideas or facts. Copyright laws protect intellectual property from misuse by other individuals. Answer: D is incorrect. A patent is a set of exclusive rights granted to anyone who invents any new and useful machine, process, composition of matter, etc. A patent enables the inventor to legally enforce his right to exclude others from using his invention.

B. To document test design and test execution processes
C. To assess whether the benefits will be achieved at a reasonable cost
D. To select the most suitable tool for the intended purpose
Answer: C

NEW QUESTION: 3 An administrator has connected devices to an industrial switch and, for security reasons, wants the dynamically learned MAC addresses from the address table added to the running configuration. What must be done to accomplish this?
A. Use the no switchport port-security command to allow MAC addresses to be added to the configuration.
B. Set the switchport mode to trunk and save the running configuration.
C. Use the switchport protected command to have the MAC addresses added to the configuration.
D. Enable port security and use the keyword sticky.
Answer: D

NEW QUESTION: 4 You write the following method (line numbers are included for reference only): You need to ensure that the method extracts a list of URLs that match the following pattern: @http://(www.)?([

Related Posts.]+.com; Which code should you insert at line 07?
A. Option C
B. Option D
C. Option B
D. Option A
Answer: D
Explanation: The MatchCollection.GetEnumerator method returns an enumerator that iterates through a collection. Note: The MatchCollection Class represents the set of successful matches found by iteratively applying a regular expression pattern to the input string. Incorrect: Not B: The ICollection.SyncRoot property gets an object that can be used to synchronize access to the ICollection.
