NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following would help to change an organization's security culture?
A. Periodically audit compliance with the information security policy
B. Develop procedures to enforce the information security policy
C. Obtain strong management support
D. Implement strict technical security controls
Answer: C
Explanation: Management support and pressure will help to change an organization's culture. Procedures will support an information security policy, but cannot change the culture of the organization. Technical controls will provide more security to an information system and staff; however, this does not mean the culture will be changed. Auditing will help to ensure the effectiveness of the information security policy; however, auditing is not effective in changing the culture of the company.

Explanation: Phishing presents a link that looks like a valid trusted resource to a user. When the user clicks it, the user is prompted to disclose confidential information such as usernames/passwords. Phishing elicits sensitive information through an e-mail message that appears to come from a legitimate source such as a service provider or financial institution. The e-mail message may ask the user to reply with the sensitive data, or to access a website to update information such as a bank account number.
