NEW QUESTION: 1What can be accomplished by storing on each subject a list of rights the subject has for every object?A. Key ringB. RightsC. CapabilitiesD. ObjectAnswer: C*Explanation: Capabilities are accomplished by storing on each subject a list of rights the subject has for every object. This effectively gives each user a key ring. To remove access to a particular object, every user (subject) that has access to it must be "touched". A touch is an examination of a user's rights to that object and potentially removal of rights. This brings back the problem of sweeping changes in access rights.
