NEW QUESTION: 1 Which of the following security architectures defines how to integrate widely disparate applications for a world that is Web-based and uses multiple implementation platforms?
A. Enterprise architecture
B. Service-oriented modeling and architecture
C. Sherwood Applied Business Security Architecture
D. Service-oriented architecture
Answer: D
Explanation: Explanation/Reference: Explanation: In computing, a service-oriented architecture (SOA) is a flexible set of design principles used during the phases of systems development and integration. A deployed SOA-based architecture will provide a loosely-integrated suite of services that can be used within multiple business domains. SOA also generally provides a way for consumers of services, such as web-based applications, to be aware of available SOA-based services. For example, several disparate departments within a company may develop and deploy SOA services in different implementation languages; their respective clients will benefit from a well understood, well defined interface to access them. XML is commonly used for interfacing with SOA services, though this is not required. SOA defines how to integrate widely disparate applications for a world that is Web-based and uses multiple implementation platforms. Rather than defining an API, SOA defines the interface in terms of protocols and functionality. An endpoint is the entry point for such an SOA implementation. (Layer interaction in Service-oriented architecture) Answer A is incorrect. SABSA (Sherwood Applied Business Security Architecture) is a framework and methodology for Enterprise Security Architecture and Service Management. SABSA is a model and a methodology for developing risk-driven enterprise information security architectures and for delivering security infrastructure solutions that support critical business initiatives. The primary characteristic of the SABSA model is that everything must be derived from an analysis of the business requirements for security, especially those in which security has an enabling function through which new business opportunities can be developed and exploited. Answer D is incorrect. The service-oriented modeling and architecture (SOMA) includes an analysis and design method that extends traditional object-oriented and component-based analysis and design methods to include concerns relevant to and supporting SOA. Answer B is incorrect. Enterprise architecture describes the terminology, the composition of subsystems, and their relationships with the external environment, and the guiding principles for the design and evolution of an enterprise.

NEW QUESTION: 2 An organization has launched 5 instances: 2 for production and 3 for testing. The organization wants that one particular group of IAM users should only access the test instances and not the production ones. How can the organization set that as a part of the policy?
A. Define the IAM policy which allows access based on the instance ID
B. Create an IAM policy with a condition which allows access to only small instances
C. Launch the test and production instances in separate regions and allow region wise access to the group
D. Define the tags on the test and production servers and add a condition to the IAM policy which allows access to specific tags
Answer: D
Explanation: Explanation AWS Identity and Access Management is a web service which allows organizations to manage users and user permissions for various AWS services. The user can add conditions as a part of the IAM policies. The condition can be set on AWS Tags, Time, and Client IP as well as on various parameters. If the organization wants the user to access only specific instances he should define proper tags and add to the IAM policy condition. The sample policy is shown below.

NEW QUESTION: 3 Which three options define Locations? (Choose three.)
A. Locations that are created can be represented on a map for easier identification and access.
B. Location information is entered only once. Subsequently, when setting up workforce structures the locations are selected from a list.
C. A location identifies the physical addresses of a workforce structure, such as a department.
D. Locations that are created can be represented as a tree and can be used in the security profile.
Answer: A,B,C
