NEW QUESTION: 3contoso.comという名前のAzure Active Directory (Azure AD) テナントとAKS1という名前のAzure Kubernetes Service (AKS) クラスタを含むAzureサブスクリプションがあります。管理者は、contoso.comのユーザーにAKS1へのアクセスを許可できないと報告しています。AKS1へのアクセスをcontoso.comユーザーに許可できることを確認する必要があります。最初に何をすべきですか？A. AKS1から名前空間を作成します。B. contoso.comから、組織の関係の設定を変更します。C. AKS1を再作成します。D. contoso.comから、OAuth 2.0承認エンドポイントを作成します。Answer: DExplanation: ExplanationWith Azure AD-integrated AKS clusters, you can grant users or groups access to Kubernetes resources within a namespace or across the cluster. To obtain a kubectl configuration context, a user can run the az aks get-credentials command. When a user then interacts with the AKS cluster with kubectl, they're prompted to sign in with their Azure AD credentials. This approach provides a single source for user account management and password credentials. The user can only access the resources as defined by the cluster administrator.Azure AD authentication is provided to AKS clusters with OpenID Connect. OpenID Connect is an identity layer built on top of the OAuth 2.0 protocol. For more information on OpenID Connect, see the Open ID connect documentation. From inside of the Kubernetes cluster, Webhook Token Authentication is used to verify authentication tokens. Webhook token authentication is configured and managed as part of the AKS cluster.
