NEW QUESTION: 1An interactive report is based on real-time data and is always user interactive. What is true about Interactive reports?A. The report is always ad hoc.B. The user can enter parameters to limit the information to be included.C. Interactive reports ALWAYS require an ESS program to be run.D. The user can NOT drill down from the Interactive reports user interfaceAnswer: B*Explanation:Note: Unlike classic reports which typically use page items as report parameters, the data in an interactive report is driven by declarative filters. However, the developer may desire to set these report parameters by modifying interactive report settings for an end user. These settings only affect the end user's working report and will not affect any saved report settings.

NEW QUESTION: 3You notice a high number of waits for the db file scattered read and db file sequential read events in the recent Automatic Database Diagnostic Monitor (ADDM) report. After further investigation, you find that queries are performing too many full table scans and indexes are not being used even though the filter columns are indexed. Identify three possible reasons for this. (Choose three.)A. Undersized shared poolB. Oversized buffer cacheC. Missing or stale histogram statisticsD. High clustering factor for the indexesE. High value for the DB_FILE_MULTIBLOCK_READ_COUNT parameterAnswer: C,D,E*Explanation:ExplanationD: DB_FILE_MULTIBLOCK_READ_COUNT is one of the parameters you can use to minimize I/O during table scans. It specifies the maximum number of blocks read in one I/O operation during a sequential scan. The total number of I/Os needed to perform a full table scan depends on such factors as the size of the table, the multiblock read count, and whether parallel execution is being utilized for the operation.
