NEW QUESTION: 1You are the project manager of the GHY Project. This project is scheduled to last for one year and has a BAC of $4,500,000. You are currently 45 percent complete with this project, though you are supposed to be at your second milestone which accounts for half of the project completion. There have been some errors in the project, which has caused you to spend $2,073,654. What is this project's schedule variance?A. 13 percentB. -$48,654C. -$225,000D. 0.98

Answer: CExplanation: The schedule variance can be found by subtracting the planned value from the earned value. In this instance, it is \$2,025,000 minus \$2,250,000. $SV = 2,025,000 - 2,250,000 = -225,000$ Schedule variance (SV) is a measure of schedule performance on a project. The variance notifies that the schedule is ahead or behind what was planned for this period in time. The schedule variance is calculated based on the following formula: $SV = \text{Earned Value (EV)} - \text{Planned Value (PV)}$ If the resulting schedule is negative, it indicates that the project is behind schedule. A value greater than 0 shows that the project is ahead of the planned schedule. A value of 0 indicates that the project is right on target. Answer option A is incorrect. This is the cost variance for the project. Answer option B is incorrect. 13 percent is not a valid answer. Answer option D is incorrect. This is not a valid variance for this question; variances are typically negative numbers.

NEW QUESTION: 2DRAG DROP You plan to create two external content types named ECT1 and ECT2. ECT1 will retrieve data from a database hosted on a Microsoft SQL Server server. ECT2 will retrieve data from a database hosted on an Oracle server. ECT1 and ECT2 will be deployed at the server farm-level. You need to recommend a tool to create the external content types. The solution must minimize development effort. Which tool should you recommend? (To answer, drag the appropriate tools to the correct external content types. Each tool may be used once, more than once, or not at all. You may need to drag the split bar between panes or scroll to view content.) Select and Place:Answer: Explanation: Explanation: Reference: Explanation: Box 1: Define general information 1. Start Microsoft SharePoint Designer 2013. 2. Click Open Site, and then enter the appropriate site name. 3. In the Navigation pane, under Site Objects, select External Content Types. 4. To open the External Content Type Designer, on the ribbon, click External Content Type. 5. On the New External Content Type page, do the following: Next to Name, click New external content type, and then enter a unique name for the external content type. 7. Next to Display Name, enter a different name if you want a more descriptive display name. Note: The external content type is a core concept of Business Connectivity Services (BCS). Used throughout the functionality and services offered by BCS, external content types are reusable metadata descriptions of connectivity information and data definitions plus the behaviors you want to apply to a certain category of external data. Box 2: SharePoint designer does not support building ECT against Oracle. You will either have to build the model by hand in Microsoft Visual Studio or use a third-party tool. Reference: How to: Create external content types for SQL Server in SharePoint 2013
