NEW QUESTION: 4Which statement explains why a Cisco UCS 6200 Fabric Interconnect that is configured in end-host mode is beneficial to the unified fabric network? A. There is support for multiple (power of 2) uplinks. B. The 6200 can connect directly via vPC to a Layer 3 aggregation device. C. STP is not required on the uplink ports from the 6200. D. Upstream Layer 2 disjoint networks will remain separated. Answer: C Explanation: Explanation In Cisco Unified Computing System environments, two Ethernet switching modes determine the way that the fabric interconnects behave as switching devices between the servers and the network. In end-host mode, the fabric interconnects appear to the upstream devices as end hosts with multiple links. In end-host mode, the switch does not run Spanning Tree Protocol and avoids loops by following a set of rules for traffic forwarding. In switch mode, the switch runs Spanning Tree Protocol to avoid loops, and broadcast and multicast packets are handled in the traditional way.
