NEW QUESTION: 1 Refer to the exhibit. Fill in the blank to complete the query parameter and value so that the result set is returned in reverse chronological order (most recent first) based on when message were entered. Answer: Explanation: ?sortBy=lastactivity

NEW QUESTION: 2 Your network contains a Network Policy Server (NPS) named Server1. Server1 is configured to use SQL logging. You add a second NPS server named Server2. You need to ensure that Server2 has the same RADIUS authentication and logging settings as Server1. You export the NPS settings from Server1, and then import the settings to Server2. What should you do next on Server2? A. Create a new ODBC data source. B. Manually configure the SQL logging settings. C. Run netsh.exe nps reset config. D. Restart the Network Policy Server (NPS) role service. Answer: B Explanation: Server was configured to use SQL logging for the NPS service. The correct procedure has been followed to restore RADIUS authentication settings on Server2, but the RADIUS logging settings have not yet been replicated. This means we must configure SQL logging on Server2. An ODBC data source is used to connect to a SQL database, and could be helpful in the configuration of SQL logging, but SQL logging has not even been configured. Restarting the NPS service is typically not needed when new settings are imported to RADIUS, and at best would only ensure the authentication settings that were imported are applied. Logging settings have still not been duplicated. netsh.exe nps reset config will restore all settings on Server2 to their defaults, undoing the work of importing the authentication settings from Server1.

NEW QUESTION: 3 NO: 89A NetScaler Engineer would like to direct identical requests for the same service to specific cache servers. Which load-balancing method should the engineer use? A. Domain Hash B. Source IP Destination IP Hash C. Source IP Hash D. URL Hash Answer: D
