NEW QUESTION: 1 A security administrator wants to prevent sensitive data residing on corporate laptops and desktops from leaking outside of the corporate network. The company has already implemented full-disk encryption and has disabled all peripheral devices on its desktops and laptops. Which of the following additional controls MUST be implemented to minimize the risk of data leakage? (Select TWO).
A. Full-drive file hashing should be implemented with hashes stored on separate storage.
B. Split-tunnel VPN should be enforced when transferring sensitive data.
C. A DLP gateway should be installed at the company border.
D. A full-system backup should be implemented to a third-party provider with strong encryption for data in transit.
E. Full-tunnel VPN should be required for all network communication.
F. Strong authentication should be implemented via external biometric devices.
Answer: C, E
Explanation: Web mail, Instant Messaging and personal networking sites are some of the most common means by which corporate data is leaked. Data loss prevention (DLP) is a strategy for making sure that end users do not send sensitive or critical information outside the corporate network. The term is also used to describe software products that help a network administrator control what data end users can transfer. DLP software products use business rules to classify and protect confidential and critical information so that unauthorized end users cannot accidentally or maliciously share data whose disclosure could put the organization at risk. For example, if an employee tried to forward a business email outside the corporate domain or upload a corporate file to a consumer cloud storage service like Dropbox, the employee would be denied permission. Full-tunnel VPN should be required for all network communication. This will ensure that all data transmitted over the network is encrypted which would prevent a malicious user accessing the data by using packet sniffing.
Incorrect Answers:
A: This question is asking which of the following additional controls MUST be implemented to minimize the risk of data leakage. Implementing a full system backup does not minimize the risk of data leakage.
C: Strong authentication implemented via external biometric devices will ensure that only authorized people can access the network. However, it does not minimize the risk of data leakage.
E: Full-drive file hashing is not required because we already have full drive encryption.
F: Split-tunnel VPN is used when a user is remotely accessing the network. Communications with company servers go over a VPN whereas private communications such as web browsing does not use a VPN. A more secure solution is a full tunnel VPN.

What should you do?
A. Run the sp_who command from a query window.
B. Use SQL Profiler to trace all queries that are processing on the server. Filter queries that have a Duration value of more than 1,000.
C. Use the Job Activity monitor to review all processes that are actively running. Review the Job History to find out the duration of each step.
D. Run the DBCC TRACEON 1222 command from a query window and review the SQL Server event log.
E. Use sp_configure to set a value for blocked process threshold. Create an extended event session.
Answer: B
Explanation/Reference: Incorrect Answers: E: DBCC TRACEON 1222 is used to detect deadlocks, not to detect long running queries. References: <http://www.mssqltips.com/sqlservertip/2130/finding-sql-server-deadlocks-using-trace-flag-1222/><http://msdn.microsoft.com/en-us/library/ms188396.aspx>
