NEW QUESTION: 1Which of the following statements should be included in an accountant's standard report based on the compilation of a nonissuer's financial statements?A. A compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management.B. A compilation is not designed to detect material modifications that should be made to the financial statements.C. A compilation consists principally of inquiries of company personnel and analytical procedures applied to financial data.D. A compilation is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards.Answer: A*Explanation:Explanation/Reference:Explanation:Choice "B" is correct. The accountant's compilation report should state that a compilation is limited to presenting in the form of financial statements information that is the representation of management.Choice "A" is incorrect. A review (not a compilation) consists principally of inquiries of management and analytical procedures applied to financial data.Choice "C" is incorrect. While a compilation is not designed to detect material misstatements in the financial statements, no mention of this limitation is made in the compilation report.Choice "D" is incorrect. The review report states that a review is substantially less in scope than an audit in accordance with GAAS.
